Conditions of Service

The ISA team provides advice in good faith, based on information that you give us about your situation. We endeavour to ensure that our advice is accurate however, it is important to note that immigration legislation is subject to change, often at short notice. We cannot accept responsibility for any errors or omissions, for consequences arising from the use of our advice nor for decisions made by UK Visas and Immigration (UKVI) or other agencies. It is your responsibility to check the visa requirements which apply to you before you take any action about your situation. Please note, that we are unable to provide immigration advice and services to you if you are already being advised or represented by another agency (this includes solicitors, immigration advisers and/or lay advisers), as this could present a conflict of interest which may not be in your best interest.

The regulation of Immigration Advice and Codes of Standards and Ethics

The provision of immigration advice is regulated by the Office of the Immigration Services Commissioner (OISC) which provides Code of Standards (oisc.org.uk). This sets the principles and standards by which immigration professionals must comply. Please note, the ISA team are the only designated members of staff at UEL who are appropriately trained and regulated by the OISC to provide immigration advice

UEL is a member of the UK Council for International Student Affairs (UKCISA) and we operate in accordance with their Code of Ethics for those advising International Students (ukcisa.org.uk).

We do not identify you by name if we speak to UKCISA about your situation. The purpose of doing this is so that we can offer you clear, accurate and professional advice.

Record Keeping

It is professional practice for International Advisers to keep written case notes on students and their enquiries.

You can use our e-mail advice and our telephone advice service is for general enquiries only. If you require more in-depth, specialist advice you will need to contact us via email or arrange and a remote appointment via Microsoft teams

Case notes from an advice session record a summary of the main points raised by you, and the advice or information given by the Adviser. Agreed action to be taken is recorded with details of any follow-up action and correspondence. It is not possible for us to record the whole discussion. A copy of the case notes will be emailed to you.

All case notes and documents are kept secure electronically within the Service, with access restricted to the Immigration and Compliance team. In line with the OISC code of standards, case notes are kept for a period of six years. After this time they are destroyed securely.
