In advance of interview:

For your audition, you will prepare a short performance based off one of the tasks given below. Your performance should incorporate dramatic material from the three performing arts disciplines:

- Acting (a piece from either a published script or a piece you've devised/ written.)
- Music (includes singing and/or playing an instrument)
- Movement (Includes Dance and Physical Theatre)

Task 1

Prepare a 2-3 minute performance of your own choice, making sure the piece demonstrates your skills in two of the three performing arts disciplines listed above. The piece might be something you have previously performed; or you might create your own original material. It might combine the above disciplines, for example a physical theatre piece using text. But you could also perform two separate pieces, for example a monologue and a song.

OR

Prepare a 2-3 minute performance using the spoken word poem This is London by Deanna Rodger. Your performance should explore this poem as text as well as starting point for original movement or music / song material. You could create a short physical theatre piece that incorporates sections of the text. Or you could present the text as a monologue alongside a separate movement or song piece.

If you are preparing for an online audition, you should film your performance in a space suitable for the material. Be prepared that we might ask you to perform aspects of it one more time during the online interview.
